

Lisa Czach

Personal Biography

Lisa has 15 years of experience in medical communications and strategic planning. Prior to joining Six Degrees Medical Consulting, she held senior healthcare management positions at several other international consulting companies.

Lisa has led, managed and helped build numerous multi-disciplinary project teams on both domestic and international pharmaceutical accounts. She has a proven track record of excellent client service and strategic insight and is respected by clients around the world.

Lisa has worked in many therapeutic areas including haemophilia, diabetes, haemostasis management, stroke, trauma, cardiovascular disease, anti-infectives and respiratory. Her key strengths include project management, strategic planning, meeting facilitation, media relations, stakeholder relations, key opinion leader management, continuing medical education initiatives and event planning.

Lisa has earned several awards for outstanding communications contributions including an IABC Silver Leaf, Award of Merit for the Bayer Bus Tour: Media Relations Category, and an agency award for Outstanding Client Relationships.